

2000 Seasons Greetings To All

Ed: And my nest begins to empty :- (As of Labor Day this year both boys were gone. I am proud of the fact that neither appears to be homesick, but at the same time it would be nice if they would miss me at least a little. Well, my post-child rearing life will go on. So far in addition to going to the theatre, I have taken up square dancing and hauling big (heavy) rocks out of quarries At work, with Y2K over, I started a new assignment on a project providing fingerprint service to the British Government, and got a trip to London.

Scott: Well... this past year has definately been a year of change for me. New School, new City, new life... Its been fun but a lot of work. Oh well, I have plenty of time, and I look forward to the novelty of a new situation in life:)

Steven: My second year at Massanutten is going well. I am a cadet staff sergeant and the highest-ranking freshman at the school. My grades are excellent and things are generally looking up. I also begin Drivers Ed in January

We now have a family web page:
